Over the Farley Nordheimer Suit for $100,000.

TORONTO, July 10.—The excitement in business circles continues over the Farley-Nordheimer affair. Farley, who is one of the city's brokers, was caught in the tumble of the Chicago markets last week, also on Federal bank stock. He declares himself solvent and will press his suit against Nordheimer, president of the Federal bank, for saying that he had absconded.

The Toronto World of Saturday gives the following: Brokers and financial men were not prepared for the announcement yesterday that the Federal bank, and the great bull broker had severed the connection—that the president of the bank, Samuel Nordheimer, Esquire, of Glenedyth on the Hill, and of the music shop 15 King east, had gone so far as to swear out an information against Alderman William Farley, stock broker, who had been the confidential broker of Mr. Strathy and Mr. Nordheimer when the misdeeds of the managers of that bank were exposed last winter, and when Farley was in great demand to hold up the declining end of the stock. But such was the fact. Sammy was after Billy and Billy was after fish. But to the particulars:

FARLEY DID A BIG BUSINESS in the different lines of a stock broker. He turned over between two and a half and three millions some months. He kept his account at the Federal. But he lost money of late in the Chicago deal. He lost, too, perhaps, in Federal when he held it up. But that he could stand these losses was the opinion of his friends, and of Mr. Strathy, the manager; and had that officer been here the events of Thursday would not have happened. But what did happen on Thursday? Simply this: That Farley, like other brokers, is in the habit of getting his checks marked good during the day, and squaring up at 3 when the bank closes. Farley had often overdrawn his account $75,000, and though he was "hard up" on Thursday the bank marked his checks, and at 3 it was found that he was overdrawn. At this stage Samuel began to get excited. As president, or as acting manager, or as both, he telephoned over to Farley's office. The clerk answered that

THE ALDERMANIC BROKER had gone home and that he would square his account in the morning. But Samuel got into a cab along with Mr. Buchanan, who is supposed to take Mr. Strathy's place, and they drove to Billy's house on John street. The girl said Mr. Farley had gone over to his father's, and he was going from there to the island fishing. At this very moment Farley, junior, seven years of age, was digging the worms. Mr. Nordheimer was greatly excited and asked for Mrs. Farley. She was also out. Mr. Buchanan went back to the town; Mr. Nordheimer remained about for a little while and then went up to the house again. This time Mrs. Farley was in, and according to Mr. Farley, he spoke to her in a very ungentlemanly manner. But then he was after his $18,000. Then he left. Enter now Mr. Farley, who was told of what had happened. He determined

NOT TO GO AFISHING though his son and heir had got a full supply of worms. But he telephoned for his book-keeper, and found that David had gone. Soon Billy's telephone began to go. His friends down town were asking if the report, started by the president of the Federal, that he had absconded, was true. Billy says he thought it was a joke at first. The broker answered and told him it would be all right, and mentioned how he was going to square the account. Buchanan said all right, that Mr. Nordheimer was merely excited. Buchanan then came to Farley's house and a full explanation was made and he went away quite pleased. But soon after he left Farley was telephoned to the effect that Mr. Nordheimer had sworn out an information that Farley had absconded for parts unknown. Mr. Farley then repaired to the Queen's and got a stack of lawyers—Osler, Kent, Pearson and others. They advised him to take an action against Mr. Nordheimer

FOR $100,000 DAMAGES, and the writ will issue to-day. All the papers are ready for serving. But besides going to Mr. Farley's house Mr. Nordheimer went to his (Farley's) father's home and asked for the old gentleman. The girl said he had gone fishing. This was too much for Samuel, and according to the girl, said that he didn't believe her, that he was sure they were both on the spree. Mr. Farley, sr., is the leading temperance and cold water advocate of the west end and is deeply grieved at his temperance probity being thus questioned. He will probably bring an action, too. Mr. Farley told a World reporter last night that he had lost some money of late, but that he would come out all right; that he had overdrawn his account because a great many bills came in on him on Thursday; but that he has enough to pay all. The sympathy of the street was with Mr. Farley yesterday, and it was the general opinion that a bank that owed so much to a broker ought to be more generous, but they forgot that banks have no souls. But in the meantime what is the sport of the onlookers has only begun.

Catholic Pilgrimage.

MONTREAL, June 7.—This year is regarded with peculiar reverence by Catholics, as the twenty-fifth anniversary of the miraculous appearance of the Virgin Mary to Barnadotte Subirois, a peasant girl of Lourdes, and in commemoration of the event His Holiness Leo XIII, has granted special indulgences to all pilgrims who may visit the shrine of Our Lady of Lourdes. Friday next a party of pilgrims numbering in all about forty five will leave Quebec by the Dominion line steamer Oregon for the shrine by way of Liverpool, London and Paris. After reaching Lourdes the party will separate, a portion going on to the Eternal City and the rest returning to Canada, which they expect to reach in August. The pilgrims will be under the spiritual direction of Fathers Vacher and Martineau of the Order of Sulpicians, and the presidents will be Mr. Derome, of Cadieux, and Derome of this city.

PHOSPHATINE.—An almost certain remedy for Pulmonary Consumption and all chronic and wasting diseases. The greatest medical discovery of the nineteenth century; a scientifically prepared remedy free from quackery; pure, delicious, natural and permanent in its results. Its efficacy is something wonderful; discovered by Prof. G. Lowell Austin, Boston, Mass. Price $1.00 per bottle. For sale by all druggists. dw

A REMARKABLE FACT.

It is a remarkable fact that W. A. Edgers, of Frankville, who was so far gone with liver and kidney complaint that his life was despaired of, was cured with five bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters. At one time he lay a fortnight without an operation of the bowels. (36)

POPULARITY.

Why they are popular. The reason that National Pills are so universally popular is because they are certain in their action, mild and painless in their operation, and never leave the bowels constipated. They are sugar-coated, and contain no mineral poison. (35)

A PRAISEWORTHY OBJECT.

"None name it but to praise." This is true of that unsurpassed remedy, "Hagyard's Yellow Oil." It cures pain and inflammation, whether from sprain, bruise, or frost-bite, lame back, rheumatism, neuralgia, sore throat, croup, deafness, and for internal and external use. (31)

IF you have feelings of goneness, too weak and dragging to rally, too nervous to sleep, digestion hardly sufficient to keep soul and body together, tired brain, headaches, pains across the back, the whole system relaxed, sore lungs or a cough, and will try from one to six bottles of Dr. Austin's Phosphatine, as the case may require, it will not fail to make you our enthusiastic friend. Price $1.00. For sale by all druggists. dw

PROVISIONS OF THE ELECTRIC LIGHT BYLAW.

The following is an abstract of the electric light bylaw which yesterday was submitted to the vote of the real estate owners of the city for their approval. The vote cast was a comparatively moderate one, but the majority indicated a very decided feeling in favor of the bylaw. The first clause states that the agreement is made the 27th June, 1883, between the mayor and council and Robert Burns McMicking of Victoria who undertakes to erect and maintain at three several points in the city an electric light equal in the aggregate to 50,000 candles, said lights to be elevated not less than 150 feet from the ground at the level of the junction of Government and Yates street. That one of such lights shall be placed at or near the junction of Blanchard street and Burdett Avenue; another of such lights at or near the junction of Yates and Government streets; and another of such lights at or near the junction of Chatham street with Blanchard Avenue. The necessary plant is to be supplied by Mr. McMicking at his own cost, and the description of lamp or system of lighting is to be at his own option; all the expenses for eight years are to be paid by him, and the light to be in working order before the 1st Dec. next. The corporation on their part agree to pay the sum of $6000 per year for eight years by instalments of $500 per month, to commence thirty days after the light shall be in full operation at the three points named. But if the light is not kept up to the standard mentioned or fails, and is not produced within forty eight hours after the reception of a notice from the corporation, the said corporation by giving ten days notice may terminate the agreement, a notice posted as a registered letter being deemed sufficiet in the absence of the contractor. The test of the light by the corporation is to be reading print of the ordinary size of newspaper type at such a distance from the said lamp as may be mutually agreed upon, and if at any future time the light shall be insufficient to read similar printed matter at the same point, then the light shall be considered as insufficient.

Another clause allows the contractor the use of the streets subject to the control of the corporation for erection purposes, including wires, guy posts, towers, etc., and of such pieces of land, for engine houses and other works as may hereafter be defined. Provided that the corporation shall at any time within the term of eight years, desire to acquire the plant of the said light, they shall have the privilege of doing so at the cost price and twenty-five per cent in addition, or the sum of $12,500, whichever shall be the smaller sum, the previous contract in such case to be void. The last clause is to the effect that should notice be given the contractor of termination of contract, then he shall remove the plant within thirty days, or in default, the same may be done by the corporation at the expense of contractor, without any responsibility for loss or damage. The By-law is of course subject to the approval of the citizens.

WISE AND JUST AND LEGAL.

The more the matter is canvassed the [illegible] that in declining to allow a small ring of speculators to lay hold of the valuable lands that have just been released from the railway belt the government have acted with wisdom and a proper regard for the interests of the people and the province. The tracts, as has been frequently stated, comprises 11,652 acres of presumably good land. To have thrown these tracts open for sale at $1 an acre would have been to contravene the Land Act, and allow the speculator to take undue advantage of the actual settler. To show that such would have been the result of throwing the land open at $1 it is only necessary to say that there are on file at the government offices applications for improved sections comprised in the tracts which it is proposed to put up at auction, and which sections are now and have been for some time in the possession of settlers who had not taken the precaution to record their claims before the applications of the speculators were filed. Now, had the government recognized the first applications, what would have happened? A score or more of settlers would have been turned from their holdings or would have been forced to submit to the squeezing process at the hands of the new owners. The action of the government has confirmed the settlers in their claims and secured to them their homes and will force speculators to attend the government auction and bid for land which they had hoped to obtain for next to nothing that they might lock it up from settlement for an indefinite period. The course of the government is wise and just. It is more—it is strictly legal. They stand between the speculator and the settler for the protection of the latter; and furthormore, they insure a larger pecuniary result from the sale of the land than would have been the case had they suffered it to be gobbled up by a few men.

Electric Light.

To THE EDITOR:—Dear Sir—The telegram published by Mr. McMicking, purporting to be from the secretary of the California Electric Light Company, demands an explanation, which up to the present time has been witheld. The Council and the public are aware that every offer made by me was authorized by the parent Brush Co. of Ohio, and that the California company sent Mr. Roe to co-operate with me. Besides this the Brush Co. offered me a commission and gave me their authority by letter to represent their system until the order was revoked. In addition to this the California Co. signed a contract with me authorizing me to form a company on a basis of mutual profit. My authority to act has never been revoked in writing and under those assurances I lost both time and money in its advocacy. When in San Francisco, about five weeks ago, I was informed by the secretary, Mr. Roe, that Mr. McMicking had applied to them for the commission on sale of machinery to which I considered myself fairly entitled. And I must say that if Mr. McMicking had confined himself to the profits of the enterprise without seeking to deprive me of what I considered was justly my due, I do not suppose I should have interfered in the matter at all. Finding, however, that the company, rather than lose the order, kept both parties in suspense, and that the light to be used was kept in the dark, I saw a probabilty of the company favoring the successful one without any regard to the justice of the case or its merits. This confirmed me in my action; and I can only say that I deeply regret that an allusion to the subject publicly should have been necessitated. That I labored earnestly in the work for the past two years is patent to all; and any gentleman wishing to satisfy himself as to the correctness of my statements can inspect the voluminous correspondence in my possession, and become convinced of the fact that a wrong has been done. So far as I am concerned this explanation ends whatever interest I previously entertained in the question. R. NUTTALL.

ANOTHER FIRE IN NEW YORK.

THREE SHIPS BURNED.

Lives Lost and Firemen Hurt.

NEW YORK, July 19.—About 10:30 o'clock this morning sparks from an engine fell into a pile of jute which had just been landed on Harbeck's dock from the ship Lawrence Delap from Calcutta. The deck was filled with heaps of jute, and the flames spread with great rapidity. In a few minutes the entire wharf was ablaze. The Delap was the first vessel to catch afire, and all her rigging was burned before she could be towed out. Next to her, on the south side of the dock, was the ship Perseverance, also from Calcutta, which arrived yesterday, and on the north was the ship Adams, from Calcutta. To both these vessels the flames communicated, and the crews jumped overboard for safety. When the firemen reached the dock the supports of the roof gave way, burying a dozen firemen and dock hands beneath the ruins. A rescuing party was quickly formed, and the men were dragged out from the blazing rafters. None were dead, but all were more or less burned and bruised. Just then a panic occurred in the crowd, and the chief of the battalion gave orders to clear the dock, as the ship Lawrence Delap, which was now on fire above and below, contained 4,500 pounds of saltpetre. A rush was made by the crowd to the further end of the dock, and while this was going on a hoisting derrick, the supports of which had been burned, fell over on the wharf with a crash, knocking two dock men overboard. Custom house inspector Harrader, in attempting to escape from the ship Adams, was severely burned about the face and hands. The ships Perseverance and Adams had by this time been towed far out in the stream, and the tugs poured streams of water into their holds. Three men were seen to throw a trunk of Capt. Grove, of the ship Lawrence Delap, overboard, containing £2,000 and £4,000 worth of jewelry belonging to his wife. It was picked up by river thieves, who rifled it. The wife and child of Capt. Grove were saved. Twelve firemen were injured by the falling in of the burning roof of the pier, but only one is thought to be fatally hurt. The ship Delap was burned to the water's edge. She was valued, with cargo, at $150,000. The ship Adams was burned at the pier; the bark Perseverance floated into the stream, and was burned to the water's edge. The total loss is now estimated at $1,000,000.

RUNNING THE GAUNTLET

OF A FIERCE FOREST FIRE.

[illegible] N. P. Railway Train.

The passenger train on the Northern Pacific railroad bound for this city last Wednesday, was delayed by fire near the track this side of Heron. After a little prospecting the train was put through the blazing furnace in safety. The Sprague Herald has the following account: "The woods are ablaze for miles in that region, and on this occasion the ricks of wood lying near the track were burning and so hot that it was thought dangerous to pull through in consequence of the great heat dislocating the rails. Supt. Griffin with his usual promptness first ran the gauntlet of fire, and reported it safe to proceed with the train. Ladd pulled it through at a seventy mile rate of speed without damage." O. W. Pond, the advance agent of Rev. Henry Ward Beecher, was a passenger on the train, and never before having visited the far west, was somewhat surprised at the execution of such a daring manœuver. In conversation with an Oregonian reporter yesterday he said it almost made his hair stand on end. "We shut down the windows and closed the door tight just before we started," he continued, "but the air inside the car was like the breath from a furnace and the whole train seemed to be on fire. The flames licked the window glass savagely, and although it only lasted a few moments, it was an experience I shall never forget and never again wish to undergo. I can't help but think of the terrible danger we passed through. If one rail of track beneath us, having been warped by the heat, had given way, we would every one of us have been roasted alive. It makes me shudder even now."—Oregonian.

English Mail.

(Per Steamer North Pacific.)

When Marwood, the English executioner, was about to leave Ireland, a few weeks ago, one of the policemen who accompanied him as a protector began to joke him about his prafession. Marwood bore the attacks very calmly for awhile, and when asked if he had a son, replied quietly that he had, whereupon he was asked if he intended to put him into his own line of business. "Well," said Marwood, with a keen look and a sly twinkle in his eye, "if he's a good boy I will; but if he turns out a blackguard, I'll make an Irish policeman out of him."

A Zurich firm is reported to be constructing for the Roumanian Government an under-water boat, which, if it accomplishes what its inventor claims for it, will revolutionize naval warfare. The craft is to supply a sufficient amount of air for a twelve hours' trip below the surface, and will be lighted by electricity. The torpedo is nothing to this new enemy of the ironclad.

CANADA.

Crops in Canada.

TORONTO, July 19.—The Globe publishes crop reports from Ontario and Quebec. They show that the country suffered no more from rains this season than in former seasons from other causes. Taking 100 as the basis average per centage, the average crop is as follows: Fall wheat 78, spring wheat 90, barley 90, oat 90, peas 90, rye 93, hay 122, potatoes 96, corn 74, roots 93, apples 64, other fruit 8.

SAVED, SAVED, SAVED, was the expression of a distinguished citizen of Des Moines, Iowa, as he stepped out of the front door after being confined to the house for a year. He had been given up to die by his doctors, when a friend brought him a bottle of Dr. Van Buren's Kidney Cure, and in three months he was perfectly well. w

J. & R. Tennent deem it of the utmost importance at this time to direct special attention to the fact that they continue to brew only from the Best of Malt and Hops.

Owing to recent changes in the Excise Laws, Beer and Stout can now legally be brewed from other materials, which, in consequence of cheapness, are being largely taken advantage of, but of which Messrs T. entirely disapprove, and accordingly they continue to use only malt made from the finest Scotch and English Barley.

The purchasers of the Red T Brand have a guarantee of its being a "Standard" malt liquor, and for which it has been well known for over half a century in all the foreign markets. This standard of excellence it still maintains as has been recently attested at the Exhibitions in Melbourne, 1880; New Zealand, 1881; Bordeaux, 1882.

N. B.—There have been more piracies of the Red T brand than of any other, which attests its superiority. These piracies have been suppressed in many markets and openly interdicted by law in Germany in 1864 and again in 1877, where the practice was most notorious. A. B. GRAY & CO.,

What Some People Say.

That the Delta Town Council passed resolutions of condolence with the family of the late Andrew Fisher, whose sad death by drowning has been noted in these columns.

That a piece of cake which the Prince of Wales bit into but did not finish was sold at a big price in England not long ago.

That an organist played in another church than his own recently, and was complimented by the organ-blower for the proficiency shown in his voluntary. "By the way," added the man who manipulated the wind apparatus, "I've blown that voluntary before."

That the Yosemite will make an excursion trip in a few days.

That if a burglar should enter your house, throw a toy pistol at him. In his rage he will pick it up and attempt to discharge its contents into your head. Then all you have to do is to call the police and have the fellow's body removed.

That chief justice Waite, of the United States Supreme Court, one of Senator Edmunds' party, was thrown from a horse at Bismarck, Dakota, on Saturday, and very seriously hurt.

That Sullivan and Slade will spar four rounds at New York on the 26th August. Marquis of Queensbury's rules will be observed.

That a sewing machine agent tried to kill himself in California. Don't believe it.

That you can't get drunk on water. Nonsense! Go on a yachting excursion and see if you can't.

That the following extraordinary advertisement appeared in a Chicago paper where printers had struck: "Notice.—My wife, Emily Coote Ferguson, having left my bed and board and gone back on me, for God's sake and for the sake of your life take it away. Temperature, 189½ above zero."

That it is not the milkman who has the most cows that gives the most cream. It is the milkman who has the most conscience.

That Seattle lumber dealers have advance the sale of lumber $1 per M.

That Naas river oolachans may be had in kits at Fell & Co's, Fort street *

That it is believed the telegraphers' strike will be over by the 1st of August, when the press contract with THE COLONIST will commence.

That the following, scratched on the back of a business card, was actually picked up on Yates street yesterday afternoon:

"Remember well and bair in mind
That a troo love is hard to find,
And when you find one galant and gay
Hang to his coat tail nite and day."

That the Chatham farm wagon with patent climax truss axle is imported only by Fellows & Prior, Government street, who are sole agents for the province. It is the best wagon now made, light running and durable.

That copies of the tariff changes may be had at The Colonist office and the bookstores to-day. *

The Telegraphers' Strike.

The Oregonian of Tuesday says: At no point of importance, save Portland, was business paralyzed by the strike of the telegraphers last week. It will be remembered that the strike took place on Thursday. On Friday San Francisco journals had very full news reports from the east, while here communication was altogether cut off. We condense, from San Francisco papers of that day, an account of the strike, by which it will be seen that it was a virtual failure. Other news is also given in condensed form.

POPCUM.—Mr. D. Nelmes, of Chilliwhack, had a very narrow escape from being killed by a bear last week. He was out hunting some cattle, and while in the act of jumping over a log he came face to face with the black monster, who was waiting to receive him with open arms. There was no weapon in the hand of Mr. Nelmes, and he tried the effect of a good pair of stout lungs, but bruin didn't scare worth a cent. As a last resort Nelmes offered the bear his pipe and tobacco Bruin sniffed it and apparently concluded that he didn't want to eat anybody who tasted like that. He walked away disgusted and Nelmes took an opposite direction. The farmers of Chilliwhack have nearly completed haying, and some are busy at their harvest. The weather is exceedingly fine for harvesting operations.—Columbian.

MESSRS. FELL & CO., Fort street, have just received a consignment of the Naas river oolachans in kits. *

JAMES BAY BRIDGE will be closed from one o'clock to-day till Saturday night. This action is taken to facilitate the erection of the second pier.

Sol Smith Russell.

The talented gentleman whose name heads this paragraph will appear with his company at Philharmonic Hall on this and to-morrow evenings. The Seattle Post-Intelligencer says of the performance there on Tuesday evening: "Last evening the hall was filled with a highly pleased assemblage to witness the presentation of Edgewood Folks, with Russell as Dilloway. It is scarcely necessary to develop the plot, but suffice to say it is one of those light pieces wherein success of the piece lies more in the ability of the actors than in depth of plot or intrinsic merit. It would appear to us that Edgewood Folks without Russell in the leading character would not amount to much. But with his versatility, characterizations, songs, sketches and specialties, it becomes a source of infinite amusement. Last evening the audience was kept in a perfect burst of laughter by Russell's droll personations. He is really inimitable. He looks so entirely innocent, honest and candid in whatever character he assumes that he captures one right away; and his acting throughout is of the best possible character."

WEDNESDAY, July 25.

SHOOTING A MARE.

Chas. Hehn, on remand from the 18th inst. on a charge of shooting a mare, the property of Mr. Williams, of Constance Cove Farm, district of Esquimalt.

Supt. Todd stated that Mr. Williams had seen him and stated that he wished to withdraw the case, as he thought the prisoner did not know the serious nature of his offence. But he (Supt. Todd) told him that the only way of teaching both the prisoner and others was to punish them. He did not think the prisoner was of unsound mind, and he could not therefore consent to withdraw the case.

His honor said in that case he had no other alternative but to commit the prisoner, which he accordingly did, allowing bail, himself in $1000 and two sureties in $500 each.

Iron Founders' Strike.

The machinists, blacksmiths, moulders and helpers employed in the Albion Iron Works struck work in a body yesterday morning. It seems that some of new rules made by the Company and posted up throughout the buildings were exceedingly distasteful to the hands, and hence their action. The boiler makers made arrangements without leaving their work. The strikers met during the day at the Albion Hotel and sent a deputation to confer with the directors of the company; with the result that some of the objectionable rules were modified and the one making the men responsible for all errors or flaws in work done, struck out. With this understanding the hands resumed work this morning. Both employers and employed are to be congratulated on this satisfactory termination of the matter.

The horse was finally arrested without doing further damage.

Municipal Council.

The usual weekly meeting of the council was held at the city hall last night, his worship the mayor in the chair. A full board was present.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and adopted.

COMMUNICATIONS.

The result of the vote on the Electric Light by-law was read announcing a majority of 191 in favor of the by-law.

The Electric Light by-law then passed its third and final reading.

From Hon. W. Smithe, stating that the Council had misinterpreted the amount of the award in the Yates street extension, and that a condition was imposed that the corporation should erect a fence along the new line of road, which condition was made independently of any arbitration. On the payment of the amount of the award and an additional sum of $285, he would advise the conveyance of the strip of land required for the purpose.

Coun. Vigelius moved, seconded by Coun. Shears, that the communication be received, and an additional amount of $285 be paid the government in lieu of erecting a fence.

From Victoria hack drivers, asking permission to use Yates street from the centre of street west of Government and the side of the street east of Government. Beneath the petition were the names of forty five business men who stated they offered no objection to the hack drivers' proposal.

Coun. Vigelius moved that the communication be laid over for two weeks so that the Council could consider the matter. Seconded by Coun. Wriglesworth, who said that he believed that the hacks and express wagons were willing to exchange positions.

Coun. Gribble was in favor of giving hacks some part of Yates street. He thought the centre of the street was the proper place.

Coun. Shears had been unaware no objection would be raised to the presence of hacks on Yates street. The names of the business men attached to the petition altered the complexion of the affair. He thought the sooner the change was made in the by-law the better. He would move in amendment that the matter be laid over for one week only. Seconded by Coun. Gribble. The amendment was carried.

From T. S. Bone asking permission to tap the main on Saanich road for a supply of water. Referred to water works committee.

From Mr. A. DeCosmos and others representnig that Government street between Johnson and Cormorant was in a bad condition and requesting that sidewalks be laid and street graded.

Coun. Shears moved that the communication be received and the petitioners informed that the finances of the city did not admit of the work being carried out this year.

Coun. Vigelius remarked that the condition of the street was comparatively creditable to the condition of the buildings on either side. (Hear.)

From Mr. J. W. Lawson on behalf of Protestant Orphans Home committee requesting attendance of mayor and council at the ceremony of laying the foundation stone of the Protestant Orphans' Home.

An invitation was also read from Mr. A. R. Milne requesting mayor and council's attendance at Masonic temple on Saturday next to join the procession to the site of the new Protestant Orphans' Home.

Coun. Wriglesworth moved that the invitations be accepted. Carried.

From a number of citizens urging the necessity of a more equal distribution of the city water and stating the cost of an adequate supply would entail only a slight increase of expenditure on the part of the water works. Pending a resolution an amendment of the water works committee report was made making the time during which the city water should be used for irrigating purposes from 5 p.m. Wednesdays and Saturdays until 6 a.m. on the following morning on Johnson street ward. For Yates street ward the days fixed are Mondays and Thursdays; for James Bay, Tuesdays and Fridays. Those living on Douglas street and the Saanich road outside the city limits shall be permitted to use the water for the purposes aforesaid on Sundays only between the above-mentioned hours.

Coun. Wriglesworth moved that a man be employed to see that the rule was observed. Seconded by Coun. Shears and carried.

Coun. Wriglesworth moved that the communication of Mr. R. Ward and others be received and that they be informed the water-works committee were doing all in their power to meet the difficulty complained of.

From city hall committee, recommending that the city hall roof be painted, etc.

From D. R. Harris, stating that the grade of the public landing was practicable for steam roller, the cost being estimated at $15. Coun. Vigelius moved the report be adopted, Messrs. Turner, Beeton & Co. to bear the expense. Carried.

James bay bridge will be closed after the steamer leaves to-day until Saturday night next.

Coun. Shears moved that the water works notice be inserted in one of the morning papers only.

Coun. Kinsman moved in amendment that it be published in the three papers. Seconded by Coun. Gribble. The original motion was carried.

The ballot for the appointment of a cemetery keeper was then taken with the following result: Wright & Rudge, 4; H. Smith, 2; N. Mitchell, 2.

The matter was deferred for another week.

Council then adjourned.

PORT MOODY.—Track laying is now well advanced towards the Coquitlam. The bridge across the latter is the point which the efforts of carpenters and laborers are now being mainly concentrated. Dr. Loftus McInnis reports that Mr. Hill had no bones broken or joints dislocated, and that, although badly bruised and suffering from severe sprains, his injuries were not serious. The two other men who shared in the upset were not seriously hurt. The hole in the woods, being made by Mr. Clarke's axmen, is putting a new aspect on the place, and gradually revealing the great eligibility of the place as a townsite.—Guardian.

WOMAN'S SUFFRAGE.

Rev. Mr. Jewell Makes a Strong Plea in Favor of It.

Rev. F. F. Jewell, pastor of the Howard street M. E. Church, last night preached upon "Female Suffrage, from a Christian standpoint." The subject, he said, was difficult to deal with, owing to prejudices existing against it, and if any subject more than another had been abused by the press, penny-a-liners and irresponsible scribes, it was that under discussion. It had been made the cause of levity and a matter of derision; but now, from a Christian view, it has been lifted above jibes. Women, said the preacher, are, and always have been, superior to men, for men were of earth earthy, and women were of spiritual natures. Eve, for her superiority, was tempted of the devil, and by the "fall," woman was subjected to man—that is, the spirit was subjected to the flesh. Christianity has for its one great object the recovery of what man lost—the subjugation of the flesh to the spirit, or the removal of "the curse." Forms of governments necessarily differed owing to varying conditions, but they, in the opinion of the speaker, were of divine origin, and they all embodied religious ideas, although many will not admit more than morality. The two terms were akin, and without discussing them the preacher was satisfied to insist that at least governments instead of physical or intellectual forces represented moral principles. Then moral people most assuredly should influence the functions of government, and where can morality be found if not within the ranks of our women, and what more potential voice than that pertaining to the ballot? When Christianity shall have accomplished its work the last vestige of the curse will have been removed, and where suffrage shall have been granted women a great step will have been taken towords the millenium. Through woman came the curse, and through woman it will be removed. S. F. Call.

The Man Who Stops His Paper.

Philip Gilbert Hamilton, in his admirable papers on "Intellectual Life," thus talks to the man who "stopped his paper": "Newspapers are to the civilized world what the daily house talk is to the members of the household; they keep our daily interest in each other, they save us from the evils of isolation. To live as a member of the great white race of men, the race that has filled Europe and America, and colonized or conquered whatever other territory it has been pleased to occupy, to share from day to day its cares, its thoughts and aspirations, it is necessary that every man should read his paper. Why are the French peasants so bewildered at sea? It is because they never read a newspaper. And why are the inhabitants of the United States though scattered over a territory fourteen times the area of France, so much more capable of concerted action; so much more alive and modern; so much more interested in new discoveries of all kinds, and capable of selecting and utilizing the best of them? It is because the newspaper penetrates everywhere; and even the lonely dweller on the prairie or in the forest is not intellectually isolated from the great currents of public life which flow through the telegraph and press."

DELIBERATE ATTEMPT TO MURDER A LADY.

SHARP OPERATORS IN A MEAN BUSINESS

A Girl Lost in a Trackless Forest.

SAN RAFAEL, July 19.—This community was startled about midnight, Wednesday, by the report that Mrs. Jonathan G. Kittle, daughter of General Allen, had been shot by a highwayman. She was en route to her home in Ross valley with her husband, when without warning, a man in the road raised his shotgun and fired, several bird shot taking effect in Mrs. Kittle's back and shoulder, inflicting painful but not serious wounds. The sheriff and a large posse are now in pursuit of the miscreant. From Mrs. Kittle's description he is supposed to be the man who bound with ropes and robbed a Portuguese at Corte Madera, in the morning. A vigilance committee headed by Wm. T. Coleman, has been formed for protection.

SACRAMENTO, July 19.—The operations of a swindling firm were made public today. The firm of Johnston & Morrow have conducted an intelligence bureau in this city. Recently they presented to the California State bank a draft issued by the Blair County Banking Company of Tyrone, Pa. The draft was drawn in favor of G. F. Seal, whose alleged indorsement was on the back. The money was paid on the draft and it was sent on for collection, but was returned with the information that Seal's signature was a forgery. Morrow, whose record is very bad, has disappeared, but Johnston, who is also a clerk at the International hotel, says that the business of the firm was transacted by Morrow and he was not a party to anything dishonorable.

FRESNO, July 19.—Information reaches here to the effect that a little girl, aged about ten years, a daughter of a Mr. Wilson, a resident of Central Colony, was lost in the Sierra Nevada Mountains a few days ago. The particulars of the matter are that the families of B. Marks, Mr. Wilson, and others, went to the mountains to spend the summer, and located at Dinkey Creek, about sixty miles east of Fresno. Last Sunday Mr. Wilson's little daughter, and two other young girls went out walking together, and wandered along the creek, and by some means or other Wilson's daughter fell into the creek. Her companions advised her to go back to camp and put on dry clothes. They had crossed the creek, and supposed the little girl knew which way to go, but she did not, and started in an opposite direction, so it seems. The other children paid no attention to her, but continued their walk, and on their return home she had not arrived. Search was at once made, but without avail. All the campers turned out to look for her. They traced her southward nearly to the Dinkey Creek grove of big trees, when she turned and wandered northward, but no further traces of her had been found up to 9 o'clock yesterday morning. Information of the sorrowful event was sent to the sawmill and work was stopped, and all hands started out in search of the missing child.

EUREKA, Nev., July 18.—The stage from Ploono last night brought further particulars of the murder of Charley Jenks, the insane man, in Pahranagat valley, which shows that the killing was a dastardly deed. Jenks was trailed to his place in the mountains by several whites and Indians. After the exchange of several shots, in which the pursuing party opened fire on Jenks, the pursuers were kept at bay and aid was sent for. Upon the arrival of reinforcements, making 16 persons, including whites and Indians, the rocks which concealed Jenks were surrounded and fire opened on him from all directions. Being attacked on all sides by hidden foes, Jenks started to run, when he was hit in the breast by a ball and fell dead. Investigation showed that Jenks' gun was empty, and no cartridges were found around the person of the dead. Jenks used to get his food by going from house to house of the settlers after dark. There never was an attempt made to capture him, which could very easily have been accomplished. Jenks labored under the hallucination that the members of the Masonic order were after and trying to kill him. He said he had made efforts to escape from Pahranagat valley on several occasions, but was prevented from doing so by the Masons heading him off.

TRUCKEE, July 18.—Waldo Allen, an old and popular citizen of Truckee, dropped dead at his home this noon of heart disease. Mr. Allen was one of California's earliest pioneers, and his death will be lamented by numerous friends all over the state.

Pulling the Bully's Nose.

Edwin Adams was playing in The Inconstant, or, Wine Works Wonders, in which he had to submit to having his nose pulled by a bully. This latter part was assumed by Billy Mestayer, who, by accident, gave Adams' delicate organ a more vigorous twinge than was necessary for theatrical effect. Adams was too good-humored to be annoyed at this, but he resolved that when it came to the scene when it was his turn to pull the bully's nose he would pay Mestayer off in his own coin. This determination he communicated privately to McCullough, and the latter, for the sake of the joke, in turn informed Mestayer of Adams' intention. Mestayer at once braced his nerves for the attack. Nature had blest him with one of the fattest, flattest and most insignificant noses ever put upon a human face, and in order to protect it the better from Adams' threatened attack, he smeared it liberally with cold cream; so that when the "star," later on in the play, attempted to pull it, he "missed his grip" and succeeded only in greasing his own fingers. Still, Adams was determined to repay Mestayer in his own fashion, and created shouts of laughter on the stage and in the audience by repeated though ineffectual attempts to pull that doubly fatty nose.

SUN SPOTS AND STORMS.

During the past few years the coincidence of sun storms and earth storms has been so accurate that it now seems safe to assume that they have the relation of cause and effect. For more than three months the most violent storms have raged on the sun, and for that period tornadoes and thunder storms of the greatest violence have been of daily occurrence. The loss of life and property has bee appalling. But this is merely preliminary to a statement of facts which seem to demonstrate more fully the direct influence of the sun storms upon our meteorology.

Last November the Democrat and Chronicle observer made a series of three photographs of the sun during the period when an enormous solar storm was causing a stoppage of telegraphic communication over the entire globe. The first negative, giving an image of the sun three and one-half inches in diameter, was taken when the great sun spot had just become visible by solar rotation. The black vortex and seething billows of intense white light were then greatly foreshortened and were not turned directly cowards the earth. The sun was quite low in the south, and the rays came to the sensitive photographic plate in a slanting direction through our atmosphere. The chemical action of the light on the plate was not very energetic, except in the region about the sun spot, and the result was what photographers call a thin negative. A day later the storm region had been turned toward the earth, and the great spot could be seen with the naked eye. A negative taken that day showed the most energetic chemical action the observer had ever witnessed in his experience as a photographer of the sun. The negative was so dense and black that it required two days to get a photographic print from it in full sunlight.

Clouds prevented the taking of another negative until three days had passed. In this interval the great electric storm occurred. The third negative showed an entire change in the form of the spot. It had spread out and broken up into a group of spots all surrounded by the wildest commotion in the luminous envelope. This negative was blackened over the entire disk of the sun, giving other exhibition of the highest energy in the chemical action of the solar rays. This remarkable exhibition of the chemical power of the sun storm was duly noted and time went on. Negatives taken after the great sun spot had disappeared showed no such action, although the photographic plate was of the same quality.

A box of the same plates prepared at the time of the first exposures mentioned remained over until this summer. Two negatives were made on the 29th of June when the great solar disturbance of recent date was at its height. The central portions of the sun's disk were sprinkled with spots, and on the east the great spot which could be seen with the naked eye spread itself out. The negative showed the most energetic chemical action in the rays proceeding from the vicinity of the solar disturbance. These regions made their mark on the plate, rendering the negative about them much darker than on the other portions of the disk. But there was not such an entire blackening of the plate as in November. In fact the electric storm which followed the advent of the last disturbance was not so great as that of November. But the two sets of negatives show conclusively that the chemical action of the solar ray is more energetic during sun storms than at other times. This being established, it follows that the whole earth must be affected by such conditions. The remarkable meteorology of the year is accounted for. And until the sun storms disappear the earth storms will continue with more or less violence.

Homer's record of Apollo darting fiery rays and killing the Greeks encamped before Troy, is no myth in the light of today. It may not be wholly mythical that the rivers about Troy were set on fire and seethed within their banks. We have in Homer's description a poetic account of a great drought, when the rivers actually blazed.

A Long Time Away From His Wife.

(New York Sun.)

John Heuse of Reading, Pa., was in the South when the war broke out and he wrote to his wife that he had been forced to join the rebel army. Nothing more was heard from him and he was mourned as dead. Recently he returned home. He says that when the rebel army marched to Gettysburg he one night made his escape, but was recaptured and put on board a war vessel, where he remained for some time and then made his escape. He traveled westward, was taken prisoner by Indians and was held captive for a number of years. He learned a number of Indian dialects and became a member of a tribe. He made his escape at last, went to France and returned to America via Cuba.

DR. COOPER'S VEGETABLE LIVER-WORT AND KIDNEY CURE

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

A BYLAW

TO REGULATE THE ERECTION OF WOODEN BUILDINGS WITHIN THE FIRE LIMITS OF THE CITY OF VICTORIA, AND TO PROVIDE FOR THE STORAGE OF INFLAMMABLE AND COMBUSTIBLE ARTICLES.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE MAYOR and Council of the Corporation of the City of Victoria:—

1. It shall be lawful for the Mayor and Council, from time to time when by them deemed necessary, to appoint an Inspector of Buildings, at such salary as the Municipal Council shall think proper.

2. The duties of such Inspector shall be to oversee the erection of all buildings hereafter to be erected, built, enlarged, altered, or re-erected within the City of Victoria, and to enforce the provisions of this Bylaw.

3. To examine, by virtue of his office, or whenever he may be so directed by the Mayor and Council, or by a Police Magistrate, or by any Justice of the Peace of the said City, all chimneys, fireplaces, hearths, ovens, boilers, furnaces, stoves, steampipes, stovepipes, funnels, flues and all places where fires are made or kept, or where ashes are kept; and also to examine all buildings or other premises where gunpowder, coal oil, hay, straw or other inflammable substances are kept, or where any trade which is considered by the Inspector of Buildings dangerous as causing or increasing the liability of fire is carried on, and to report thereon, and if necessary, to notify the owner, lessee, occupier or party using the building of any defect or objection thereto, or to the construction thereof, in any such stovepipe, chimney, fireplace or ashpit, and to direct the repair, alteration or discontinuance thereof as may be considered requisite.

4. If any owner, lessee, occupier or party using a building where any chimney, fire place, hearth, oven, boiler, furnace, stove, steam pipe, funnel, flue or place for keeping ashes, or any other place which is deemed to be dangerous, neglects to discontinue the use of, or to alter, repair, or remove the same in accordance with the notice in that behalf and issued by the inspector of buildings or under the authority of a resolution of the Municipal Council of the said city of Victoria and signed by the said Inspector, or by one of the Fire Wardens, he or they shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding ten dollars a day for each and every day that default shall be made in not complying with the said notice in addition to all other penalties imposed by this By-Law.

5. Until otherwise ordered by the said Municipal Council the City Surveyor shall perform the duties prescribed by this By-Law, to be performed by the Inspector of Buildings.

6. In all cases of building or rebuilding any house, warehouse, or other building when on the line of any public street or within seven feet thereof, there shall be erected by the builder a board fence of not less than six feet in height to enclose not more than half of the width of the sidewalk in front of such building and outside of such fence a planked pathway shall be laid by such builder at least four feet wide, for the convenience of the public, or it shall be lawful for him instead of erecting such fence and pathway to plank over the whole of the scaffold at the height of the first floor above the ground floor of such building, and to enclose such scaffold at the same height at least eighteen inches all round above the level of the planked floor above said, the sidwalks of the street being left free for public use.

7. No person shall place any lumber, stone, chips, shavings, rubbish, or any building material whatever, on any sidewalk, except within the aforesaid fence, and when buildings are being erected on any street no person shall be allowed to occupy more than one-third in width of the roadway with any such building material so as to obstruct the free passage of the water in the drains, gutters or water courses, and no person shall suffer or permit any such building material to remain on the street any longer than is necessary for the erection of the building for which such material is designed; and on the completion of the external walls and roof of any such building, and of such completion the Inspector of buildings shall be sole judge, the contractor or owner thereof shall within three days thereafter entirely remove all materials from the street, and cause the street to be cleaned from all such building material and left in good repair.

All Chimney Stacks shall be carried to a height of not less than four feet above the walls, Ridge, or Deck of any Roof, except in cases where the Ridge or Deck of any Roof exceed the height of six feet above the base of such Chimney, then the height shall be determined by the said Inspector, and where a Chimney Stack is used to carry away smoke or noxious vapors from any manufactory, the said Stack shall be carried to such a height as to effectually clear the surrounding buildings to the satisfaction of the said Inspector of Buildings. All Stacks shall be built of Stone, Brick or Iron and in the most substantial manner

11. No occupant of any house or building within the said City shall permit any pipe-hole not in use in any chimney in such house or building to remain open; all such holes shall be closed with a proper stopper of metal or other incombustible material.

12. No person shall place or keep any ashes in any wooden box, or within three feet of any wooden floor or partition, or in any outhouse or shed, unless properly protected; and no person shall store or permit to be stored any combustible material in any yard within one hundred feet of any building unless the same is properly covered and protected from fire, and of the sufficiency of such protection the Inspector of Buildings shall be sole judge.

13. No person shall set up, erect, or construct, or build, or use, work, or cause or procure to be set up, erected, constructed, built or worked, any steam engine except under the terms of this bylaw.
